

My Warrior Journal

My Warrior Journal

Welcome to Your Martial Arts Journal

Congratulations, young warrior — you've already done something amazing just by opening this book.

You're not just learning kicks, takedowns, or submissions. You're learning how to focus, stay calm, and push through challenges — lessons that will help you far beyond the mat.

This Martial Log Book is your personal training partner.

It's where you'll record your progress, track your goals, and capture the moments that make your journey special. Every time you write in it, you're building two invisible skills: discipline and self-awareness.

Discipline is what makes you show up and give your best — even on the tough days.

Self-awareness is what helps you notice how much you're growing — one class, one belt, one effort at a time.

By keeping a journal, you'll start to see your own progress in a new way. You'll spot the techniques you've mastered, the habits you've built, and the challenges you've overcome. Each page is proof of your effort and a reminder that you're becoming stronger every time you train.

Your instructor and your parents will be proud — but most importantly, you'll be proud of yourself.

So take a deep breath, bow in, and let's begin your journey — one page, one class, one victory at a time.

The Head Coach

My Martial Arts Promise

Every great martial artist starts with a promise — not to anyone else, but to themselves.

This is your chance to make that promise and carry it with you every time you step onto the mat.

Take a moment, read each line, and sign your name with pride.

My Promise

I promise to show respect — to my instructors, my training partners, and myself by learning the limits and not crossing them.

I promise to practice discipline — to keep showing up, listen carefully, and give my best effort every class even when I don't feel like it.

I promise to stay humble — to learn from mistakes, accept feedback, and help others improve, never forgetting that I'm part of a team.

I promise to show courage and perseverance — to try new things, face challenges, and never give up when it gets hard.

I promise to keep growing — not just in my martial arts, but as a person of character, kindness, and strength.

it's the one who keeps getting back up.”*

How to Use Your Martial Log Book

This Log Book is your training story — a place to capture how you grow, what you learn, and the small victories that make you a better martial artist every week. Here's how to make the most of it:

1. Write After Every Class

Take 2–3 minutes after training to fill in your Weekly Log. Write what you practiced, what went well, and what you want to improve next time. Even short notes help you see your progress over time.

2. Be Honest and Consistent

This book isn't about being perfect — it's about being real. Write about the good days and the tough ones. The more honest you are, the more you'll learn about yourself as an athlete and person.

3. Reflect Each Week

At the end of each week, read what you wrote. Notice how your effort, focus, and attitude are improving. That's how champions are built — through awareness and small daily wins.

4. Share It with Your Parents and Instructor

Show your instructor or parents what you've written. They'll love seeing your progress and can help you with feedback or encouragement. This is how your team supports you on your journey.

5. Celebrate Your Milestones

When you earn a new stripe, belt, or skill — write it down! Each page is proof of your hard work and dedication. Look back often and be proud of how far you've come.

Meet My Instructors & My Team

Your instructors are amazing guides who help you become stronger, wiser, and more focused. They are proof of what discipline and growth can achieve!

*"The more you write, the more you grow.
Every word you put here makes you stronger."*

My Team 🏆

This is your training home! It's where you practice discipline, build great habits, and become part of a strong team. Every time you walk in, you are showing discipline.

My Team's name is _____ and it's _____ and my Dojo is located on _____.

I started training there on (month & year) _____ and what I love the most about my BJJ Team is _____
_____.

I show respect for my team by _____ and my favourite training partner is _____ because _____.

I'm a good training partner because _____ and We work well together because _____.

Why Do I Show Up? [Discipline]

When I walk into my Dojo for class, I usually feel: (Circle one)

Excited • Focused • Tired • Ready to Go!

Showing Respect 🙏

Respect is a huge part of your martial arts journey—for your journey, for yourself, and for others.

I show my instructor respect by: (Mark only one option)

- ☐ Paying attention when he using my ears and my eyes when he's speaking
- ☐ Saying OSS loudly and strongly without screaming
- ☐ Shaking anyone hand's firmly

Courage

Acting despite fear: It is the ability to confront fear and danger but choosing to persevere anyway.

Conscious decision: It's a mental and moral strength that involves making a conscious choice to act, often due to a conviction or belief in a cause.

Root meaning: The word comes from "coeur," the French word for "heart".

Example: A person who is terrified of public speaking but gives a presentation because they believe in their message is showing courage.

My Start Date & Current Belt

This page is proof of your effort and a powerful reminder that you're becoming stronger every time you train. Every time you write in this logbook, you are building discipline.

Your start date is one of the most important dates in this whole journey. It is the day you showed discipline and decided to begin!

My Official Start Date (Month/Day/Year): ____/____/____.

My current Belt Level is: _____.

Pride and Growth

Martial arts teaches you self-awareness, helping you notice how much you're growing—one class, one belt, one effort at a time.

This is what my current belt means to me: (What do you feel proud of right now?)

I know I earned my current belt because:

Mark the ones that apply, or write your own!

- ☐ I showed Discipline (I kept showing up)
- ☐ I showed Respect (I following my instructor guidance promptly)
- ☐ I showed Brotherhood (I helped my teammates)
- ☐ I showed Perseverance working hard on my techniques
- ☐ I showed Focus during class
- ☐ _____.

Looking Ahead to My Next Belt 🧠

Your belt journey is a map of your progress! 🏆

The Next Belt I am aiming for is _____ _____ and one of the things I need to master to earn that belt is
_____.

My Why & Goals 🧠

Why I Train

Every great warrior needs a powerful reason to train! When you know your 'why,' it helps you show discipline and keep training, even on tough days.

I started martial arts because _____

_____.

When I train, I feel:

(check all that apply)

- ☐ Strong
- ☐ Focused
- ☐ Tired
- ☐ Proud
- ☐ Calm
- ☐ Energetic

What Martial Arts Means to Me 🧠

This journey is about more than just skills; it's about who you become.

Martial arts helps me:

(check all that apply)

- ☐ Focus better in class
- ☐ Be Respectful to my family and friends
- ☐ Get super strong
- ☐ Learn how to be confident
- ☐ Be proud of my effort

My Strengths as a Martial Artist 🧠

Self-awareness means knowing what you already do well! Write down one thing you are really great at in the Dojo right now:

My current biggest strength is _____, my current weakness is _____ but my ultimate goal is to become _____.

My Next Belt Goals 🧠

To achieve your next rank, you need both the skills and the right habits.
This is how you show Growth 🌱.

Habits I need to build:

- ☐ Discipline
- ☐ Effort
- ☐ Respect
- ☐ Attention

How I'll know I'm ready:

(What will your instructor or parents see you doing?)

Skills I need to master:

(Example: A certain position, a specific form, or technique... ask your coach)

1 _____

2 _____

3 _____

4 _____

My Training Habits & Daily Routine

To build the discipline habit, what time do you plan to train each week?

I train on:

(Circle the days)

Monday • Tuesday • Wednesday • Thursday • Friday • Saturday

The time my class starts _____ and finishes _____ and We practice for _____ minutes per class. I always make sure to pack my own gear the earlier before the class ☐ Yes or ☐ No.

I practice at home with my _____, always carefully, and We train for _____ minutes per day.

“Remember: every belt represents effort, respect, and growth. The color doesn’t define you – your discipline does. ✨”

Weekly Training Logs

How to Use Your Training Log

This log is your chance to track your effort and see your own growth (). Every time you fill it out, you are building self-awareness.

The goal is to write short, clear notes right after class while the memory is fresh!

What to Look For This Week:

- 1. Discipline check : The main goal of this section is to help you build the discipline habit. Think about how you showed up, listened, and pushed yourself.
- 2. What did you do well?: Find one thing you are proud of. When you notice what you do well, it builds your confidence.
- 3. Stars and stickers : Every week, you will rate your effort (1–5 stars). If you give your best, you earn your visual reward (a sticker or badge)!

Remember the 3 Pillars of a Martial Artist:

- Discipline  (Showing up and giving your best)
- Respect  (Being kind to others and your journey)
- Growth  (Learning from every mistake)

 Pro tip: Fill this out right after class or at the end of the week. It only takes a few minutes, but it makes a huge difference in your progress!

My Effort & End-of-Week Reflection

Something I did well regularly (more than once) this week:

(calm under pressure, focused on details, tried my best even when tired, etc...)

Something I want to improve:

This is how you show growth 🌱—learning from every mistake

This week's best moment:

Celebrate a personal victory!

What will be my personal Focus next Week:

(keep my guard closed, move faster in transitions, improve control?)

My Effort Level

(Paint only the stars, how hard you tried this week)

How I Felt This Week:

(Paint only the stars, how hard you tried this week)

☐ Focused ☐ Tired but proud ☐ Frustrated ☐ Confident ☐ Excited

✨ End-of-Month Reflection

To keep momentum strong, include a mini reflection every 4 weeks.

Monthly Challenges & Reflexions

Small daily habits, big lifelong results.

Every month, you'll get a new theme to focus on — like Discipline, Focus, Respect, and Effort.

Each theme comes with a short explanation, a daily challenge checklist, and a space to reflect at the end.

You don't have to be perfect.

Just do your best — one day, one class, one choice at a time.

THE DISCIPLINE CHALLENGE

"Discipline means doing what's right, even when it's not easy."

Your Mission 💪

Show discipline every day for 30 days.
That means showing up, staying focused,
and giving your best effort — even on the hard days.

30-DAY DISCIPLINE CHECKLIST

Mark  each day you trained, practiced, or showed discipline.

 I made my bed, practiced my guard pass, helped a teammate, listened to my parent

Day	What I Did to Show Discipline		Day	What I Did to Show Discipline

End-of-Month Reflection

The hardest part of staying disciplined was _____ _____ and the moment I almost gave up but didn't because _____.

How I feel after completing this challenge: _____.

MONTH 2

THE FOCUS CHALLENGE

"Where your focus goes, your energy flows."

Your Mission

Pay attention —
to your instructor, your breathing, your balance, and your thoughts.

Focus isn't about being perfect; it's about staying present.

30-DAY FOCUS CHECKLIST

Mark  each day you trained, practiced, or showed discipline.

 I made my bed, practiced my guard pass, helped a teammate, listened to my parent

MONTH 3

THE RESPECT CHALLENGE

"Respect is what makes you a true martial artist."

Your Mission ❤️

Show respect to your instructors, teammates, parents — and yourself.

Respect builds trust, teamwork, and confidence.

30-DAY RESPECT CHECKLIST

Mark  each day you trained, practiced, or showed discipline.
